Introduction to ADMIRALTY e-Reader 1.3

---

ADMIRALTY e-Reader 1.3 is a standalone application that can be used to update and view ADMIRALTY e-Nautical Publications (e-NPs).

Keeping up-to-date

To keep your ADMIRALTY e-Reader 1.3 installation up-to-date, you will need to regularly update the AENP Catalogue, permit file, AENP editions and AENP Notices to Mariners (NM) updates.

AENP Catalogue

The AENP catalogue file tells the application when NM updates and new editions are available.

The AENP Catalogue is published every Thursday and should be updated weekly to make sure your AENPs are up-to-date.

AENP Permits

A permit file contains the licence keys for the AENPs you have purchased. New permits are made available when you purchase additional AENPs, or when new editions are published for the AENPs on your licence.

AENP Editions

AENPs are supplied as edition files. These can be downloaded using ADMIRALTY e-Reader 1.3, or installed from the ADP software or update DVDs.

AENP NM Updates

NM updates are issued every Thursday. These updates provide corrections and additions to your AENPs.

AENP Scheduling

New Editions

New editions of ADMIRALTY publications are released periodically. They contain new data in addition to the NM updates published for the previous edition. When a new edition of an AENP you own is published, you will be given access to it as part of your licence for no additional cost.

Upon installing the data for a new edition that replaces a book you already have installed, the previous edition will be available for a further month before being removed from your bookshelf.

Expired AENPs

When an AENP expires, it remains accessible on the bookshelf for a further month. If the AENP is not renewed by your ADMIRALTY Chart Agent before the end of this additional month it will be removed from your bookshelf.

Ordering AENPs

To purchase additional AENPs, or renew any that are about to expire, contact your ADMIRALTY Chart Agent.

AENPs are purchased for 12-month subscriptions, except for e-NP314 which is purchased for 24 months. AENPs can be renewed in the last month of their subscription period, or the month following expiry.
